SHORT BIO

I am a Ph.D student in the KRDB Research Centre for Knowledge and Data, Faculty of Computer Science, Free University of Bozen-Bolzano. My current research is information extraction for news summarization. In doing so, I am investigating the area of natural language processing, machine learning, and the Semantic Web.

I was a grant receiver of the European Master's Program in Computational Logic (EMCL). My master's thesis is titled "Entity and Aspect Extraction for Organizing News Comments". In 2015, I received my M.Sc with overall score of 1.7 (good, German scoring system) and thesis score of 1.0 (excellent, the highest possible mark). Prior to that, I received an S.Kom (Bachelor in Computer Science) cum laude from the University of Indonesia in January 2012 and was awarded the youngest graduate of the year.

I have worked as a teaching assistant on multiple courses, including Discrete Mathematics, Calculus, Computer Networks, Data Structure, Analysis of Algorithms, Cryptography, and Numerical Analysis. I was an intern in IBM Indonesia in 2011 and a mobile developer in Badr-Interactive, a startup company in Indonesia.

RESEARCH

- 2015-present From Information Extraction to Semantic Summarization
A large amount of news articles is published daily to cover important events. The volume of such content can be overwhelming for news readers compromising their ability to get an overall, but concise, picture of what is happening. To solve this issue, multi-document summarization approaches were developed providing a quick access to essential information. The main challenge of summarizing news articles is how to capture the different perspectives, viewpoints, and levels of detail reported for the same event. Once these differences are captured, their inclusion in the summary is far from being trivial. We investigate this problem by leveraging information extraction techniques to extract details of events, such as the temporal aspects, the involved parties, and relationship between the events. We then develop some technique to fuse the extracted pieces of details together to generate a coherent summary.
- 2014-2017 Quality Management of Web Data
- 2014-2015 Entity, Aspect, and Sentiment-centric News Comments Organization
- 2011-2012 Identity-Based Encryption from the Weil Pairing

I have also done various research in some course works during my bachelor and masters study: Investigating Simplex Algorithm and Interior-Points Method; Data Warehousing of an Airline Company; Modeling and Solving Timetabling Problem using SMT-Solver; Conceptual Modeling of the Internet Movie Database; Recognitto: A Facial-Recognition Security System; Game Modeling and Solving with SAT Solver; PL/0 Compiler Design and Implementation with Java; Cisco Routing on a Real-World Network Topology; Huffman Code in Linux Kernel: Design, Implementation, and Efficiency;
